High School

As a school we are encouraging students to read high quality books in the summer. Independent reading programs of this type have been shown to be effective in maintaining the continuity of learning from one school year to another. Reading is also one of the most effective ways of building vocabulary and of setting forth a model of excellence in writing.

For the 2009 – 2010 school year we are making the program voluntary; however, we strongly encourage your student to read at least three books from their grade level.
